SPOFFORD VS. KELLOGG. THE DISPUTED LOUISIANA SENA-

Witnesses Acknowledging Affidavits that they had Signed to be False---Names of the Abettors.

WASHINGTON, June 9 .- The Committee on Privileges and Elections resumed the Spofford-Kellogg investigation. Murray and Delacy were again on tee stand, but the testimony was unimportant. The members of the committee compared De Lacy's signature to the affidavit with his name as written on a separate piece of paper, but conclusions differed. The sergeant-atarms reported that eight witnesses had been summoned on each side. The chair suggested that the examination be confined to that number, as it might be considered proper to send a subcommittee to New Orleans to examine witnesses to save expenses. Jules Seveignes, the next witness, testified that he was a member of the Packard legislature and present in the joint convention that elected Kellogg to the Senate and voted for him on that day. An affidavit was read and signed by the witness, stating that he was not present in the Legislature in January 1877, when Kellogg was elected for the long term, but voted for him the next day. The witness said the affidavit was not true and the parties who induced him to make it knew it to be a lie. After much pressing the witness mentioned the names of Drouett and Cavauac as the persons who induced him to swear

The witness continued: I never received bribes; was offered them; Drouett offered money, and afterward asked witness to vote for Spofford as a favor. Witness refused because it favor. Witness refused because it would be inconsistent to vote for two men for the same office.

The Rise in Cotton a Godsend.

LONDON, June 9.—The Times' financial article says the recent rise in cotton is described, doubtless, accurately by the correspondent, as a Godsend to that long-suffering center of commercial inactivity. But for this relief, we are told, there must have been a crash, and so it is urged that nothing more oppor-tune has happened in commercial affairs for a long time. There is no doubt that the rise was only transient and unreal so far as the merits of the staple are concerned, but it has enabled the banks and speculators to escape temporarily and in part from the perilous position, and has therefore averted a collapse that otherwise seemed inevitable.

Sentenced to Death.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Edward Parr was sentenced to death at noon to-day for the murder of his daughter, Mrs. Susan Irwin. As the prisoner was leaving the dock after sentence had been pronounced upon him he fell fain-ing to the floor, and at the same time a vial dropped from his hands; it was then ascertained that he had taken a dose of strychnine. GREENVILLE, June 7.—The young ladies and gentlemen of this town gave a public exhibition on the nights of the ad and 4th, for the benefit of the Bap-tist church. The plays were "The Rivals" and the "Marble Heart," and the farce "That Nose." Some of the acting was excellent and all acquitted themselves well. I would like to name some of the actors, but as that always gives offence to others, I refrain. Some of the actors could be put upon the stage in any theater and call forth applause. Wilmington Morning Star. The Raleigh News of the 5th with very commendable enterprise lays be-fore its readers a long account of the Commencement at Chapel Hill on Farm Journal. As I have made a most successful experiment in fattening hogs this season, I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to give your readers the benefit of it. Early in April, I planted an acre of my extra early sweet potatoes, ex-pressly to turn my hogs on. I also planted two acres in chufas for the same purpose. The chufas I planted in drills two feet apart, and about a foot apart in the drills; they nearly covered the whole ground. The sweet potatoes were large enough to eat on the first of June but I let them grow on until the first of August, when the ground was literally full of them. Then I turned on them some forty hogs.

After they had run on them some six weeks, and began to get full and lazy, I turned them on the chufas. I never saw any hogs improve so fast. As I had heard old farmers say hogs must have corn to harden the flesh, I gave them about 8 bushels; this is all the corn the hogs have ever had. On the 28th of November, I killed them, and I have the finest meat that I ever tasted. The flesh is firm, and has a sweetness that I have never tasted before in fresh meat; it is more desirable than the ten derest turkey. The same land I had in these sweet potatoes and chufas, would not have brought more than twenty bushels of corn in all. I have ong contended that we could not afford to raise corn on our poor lands to feed stock, and when I can make such meat on sweet potatoes and chufas, I would not feed on corn if I could make one hundred bushels to the acre.

His step was quick and there was a slight anxiety in his tone of voice as he asked: "Heard from the game?"

"What game?" "Why, don't you know, the ball game between the Basehits and the "Why,

"Oh, 13 to 3 in favor of the Hotliners," and the telegraph editor resumed his paste brush and manifold.
"Wh—e—w!" and he slowly walked to the door with the air of a man who had lost a bet (and we'll bet he had). Gathering up his courage once more he leaned his hand on the railing and asked, Did Twistem pitch?'

"Holdemfast catch?"

"Ah, that accounts for it; you see Twistem has got the prettiest incurve you ever saw, and Holdemfast is the only man that understands his signs so as to know when it is coming; and it just does come, you bet your boots.
He struck eight men out, and only one man got a hit off from him, and that

A sudden uprising and advance movement of the entire editorial corps and a glance at the size of their feet cut short his lecture on "cause and effect," and he slipped somewhat hurriedly through a very small opening of the door, and we trust he is receiving his reward somewhere, and we don't care where, if it's only in a warm place.- New Ha-

THE COLORED EXODUS.

HOW THE NEGROES HAVE BEEN FOOLED.

Darkeys Watching for the Gospel Ship.--Is it a Political Move or a Railroad Speculation?

From the Philadelphia Record.

A Philadelphian who has vast interests in Louisiana, who will, therefore, be affected by the loss of labor, should the negro exodus continue, returned yesterday from an extended trip through the Mississippi valley. He started from St. Louis and proceeded as far down the Mississippi as New Orleans, stopping off at many places where there were camps of the colored

"We in the South," he says, "are at a loss to fix exactly where and how this idea of emigrating first came into the colored folks' heads. There are two causes attributed. The first is that it is a speculation of the railroad men of Kansas, and the next that is a trick of the Republicans to deplete the South and thin out the Congressional districts, so as to reduce the Democratic representation in the South. However this may be, the Republican politicians here seized hold of and encouraged the movement. I tell you candidly they could not have struck a more powerful blow at the prosperity of the South and at their political antagonists than this. If it keeps on it will impoverish the white man and cause financial ruin to white men and cause financial ruin to hundreds. This movement is even more hurtful in its effects than the yel-

PLAYING UPON THE NEGROES' CREDU-

LITY. "These poor, ignorant negroes have been played upon in the most shameful manner by the men who inaugurated this scheme. They have filled their heads with four things, which the colored people regard as a truth, and will not think otherwise: First—That they are to be transported free to Kansas or wherever they are to settle. Second wherever they are to settle. Second— That the government will give each colored man one hundred and sixty acres of land. Third—That the government will give each man two mules. Fourth—That the government will give them provisions enough to last for one year, or until their crops are harvested next vear.

"There is nothing which can remove from the negroes the impression that all hese things will not be fulfilled. Even the colored clergymen are imbued with the idea, and they preach it to their con-gregations, who sit with mouths agape, swallowing every word. They take a religious view of the matter, and having a smattering of the Bible, the unfortunate people imagine that God has at last named their day of deliverance, and that He will guide them to a land flowing with milk and honey, as was promised the children of Irael in Holy History. After they get there, the govern-ment is to do the rest. This fanaticism, for it cannot be called by any other name, has seized the people so strongly that they give away their household goods, pack up a few things and gather on the river banks

WAITING FOR THE STEAMER.

One case is cited where a colored preacher sold for twelve dollars a mule for which he paid one hundred and forty-seven dollars three month before. Another left his team standing in the road, while he packed up and left the

"They believe that thirty dollars is all the funds that are necessary for the settlement of the whole business. Fourteen dollars of this sum is to be paid to a lawyer somewhere (they don't know inst where or to whom) for an indefinite service he is to perform. The remainder of the sum is to be expended in getting out the warrants for the land which the government is to give them. All the men care about is to dispose of their property in some manner so as to raise thirty dollars, and then they go off to join some camp on the river bank.

AND WAIT FOR THE GOSPEL SHIP, as it is called, which is to take them to the promised land. Another scheme which almost frenzied the darkeys was the report circulated among was the report circulated almong them that all those who joined in the emigration movement would be well provided for until their houses should be built. The women were to be quar-tered in hotels, and those who came first would have a choice of rooms. Such a report among a crowd of field hands caused a scatter, and the air castles built on the idea were higher than the Tower of Babel could ever hope to further says:

"The result of this wholesale getting out will be that the crops will be ruin-ed, and the reports from the South for 1879 will show a great diminution of the acreage of cotton gathered. For instance, a case occurs to me of a gentle-man who has 900 acres in cotton. On account of the hegira 200 acres of cotton stand a chance of not being gathered, and perhaps more. This will be a net loss of nearly 80,000 pounds of cotton to him alone, and he is but one of the nu-merous planters whose extensive fields line the fertile region known as the Mississippi bottoms. The result of this will be an increase in the price for the raw material and a consequent advance in cotton fabrics next year. This seems almost inevitable should the movement continue." WAITING ON THE BANKS.

"I return to the subject of transportaprominent part in this ill-advised movement. In one camp I found nearly 2,000 persons, who had been waiting four days for a boat to stop for them. The men had become so vexed and disappointed that they began to murmur and say that the captains of the steamers had been bribed not to stop for them. As a result, a large party armed themselves with Winchester repeating rifles, and threatened to at-tempt the capture of the first craft which came that way. Some white residents of the town near where the camp was learned of their purpose, and succeeded in dissuading the men from this

"They are all waiting for the free boat, which they have been told the Govern-ment would send for them—promised

"Conway is not and never was a General. In the army he was known as 'Parson' Conway, and later in New Orleans as 'tencent' Conway. He has no standing, except what he has acquired by his self-assumed position as the Moses of the colored men. He is using his endeavor to have a boat sent down the Mississippi river free. This is for a purpose.

"If a steamer comes there offering free transportation to the negroes, it will be the beginning of the trouble, which will not be easily ended. There is always a class of loungers about the statement in the small towns who are taverns in the small towns who are ready for any lawlessness. They sym-pathize with the planters in this move-ment. If a bost should land to take away the negroes she will be fired upon as sure as there is powder and ball in Louisiana and Mississippi. Not only that, she may be sunk. Then the only that, she may be sunk. Then the news will be sent North, painted in all the glory of the bloody shirt, and the new rebellion will be inaugurated. This may be the programme of the Republican party mangers, but I hope, and so does every conservative man South, that the government will not allow any free steamers to go down the Mississippi, for as sure as it does, there will be trouble. Should the boat come, it would be an indication that the promises made to the darkeys were to be kept, and getting the free transpor-tation, nothing under heaven could dissuade them that the rest of the prom-ise would not be fulfilled. The corn and cotton fields would be emptied in less than a month, and the whole of the immense crops, which will be ready in a short time for garnering, would be lost. The river banks would be black with the expectant negroes, and a collision between them and the whites would be the inevitable result. "So, you see, this matter is one of serious import, and while it not only con-cerns the prosperity of the South, it has its bearing on the peace of the whole country."

HOW THE NEGROES CAN BE REPLACED "Can this lawor be replaced?"
"Not very easily. You see, the colored people are acclimated. They were born and raised in the warm climate, and it would be some time before labor could be secured which would supply their places. A proposition has been made to a number of planters by an agent of the Chinese six companie of San Francisco to supply all the hands needed. But the negroes are preferred, as the Chinamen would be a costly experiment for a couple of years. They could eventually supply the places of the colored men, but just see ces of the colored men, but just see what would be lost while they were being drilled in. There are few white men who could stand the climate and perform the work.

The report of the board was made in March last, but the official record of the proceedings did not reach me until the 3d instant.

I have given to this report such examination as satisfies me that I ought to lay the proceedings and conclusions of the Board before Congress. As I am without power in the absence

A SWING FOR LIFE. WILD STORY OF THE GRAND

CANON.

Sliding Down a Waterfall Two Hundred Feet and Climbing a Mountain Two Thousand Feet.

The Denver (Col.) Tribune tells the following story of the Canon: Charles May and his brother Robert, in the spring of 1870, offered to pass 60,000 railroad ties down the Arkansas from the mountain source. He says: "Our offer was accepted, when we started into the upper entrance of the canon with a large skiff, provided with six days' provisions and 200 feet of rope, with which, by taking a running turn around some firmly planted object, we could lower our boat a hundred feet at a time. In this way, at the end of three days, having set adrift many hundred ties, we reached the entrance to the Royal Gorge. Here we discovered that an attempt to descend the first waterfall with two in the boat was certain destruction, and to return was impossible. Accordingly, I determined to lower my brother down the fall in the boat, a distance of 200 feet, give him the rope, and let him make the chance of the canon (life seemed more certain in that direction), while I would risk my physical ability to climb the canon wall, which was about 2,000 feet high.

About 10 o'clock in the morning I shook hands with my brother, lowered him in the boat safely to the foot of the fall, gave him the rope and saw him no more. Then throwing aside my coat, hat and boots, and stripping the socks from my feet, I commenced my climbing way, often reaching the height of one or two hundred feet, only to be com-pelled to return to try some other way. noon, I reached a height upon the smooth canon wall of about a thousand feet. Here my further progress wa arrested by a shelving ledge of rock that jutted out from the canon side a foot or more. To advance was without hope; to return, certain death. Reaching upward and outward, I grasped the arm of the ledge with one hand and then with the other, my feet slipped from the smooth side of the canon, and my body hung suspended in the air a thousand feet above the roaring waters of the Arkansas.

At that moment, I looked down vard to measure the distance I would have to fall when the strength of my arms gave out. A stinging sensation crept through my hair, as my eve caught the strong root of a cedar bush that projected out over the ledge, a little beyond my reach. My grasp upon the rim of the ledge was fast yielding to the weight of my person. Then I determined to make my best effort to raise my body and throw it sideways to-ward the root, so as to bring it within my grasp. At the moment of com-mencing the effort, I saw my mother's face as she leaned out over the ledge, reached down her hand and caught me by the hair. Stranger, my mother died while yet a young woman, when I and my brother were small boys, but I remember her face. I was successful in making the side leap of my arms, when I drew myself upon the ledge and rest-ed for a time. From here upward my climbing way was laborious, but les dangerous. I reached the top of the canon just as the sun was sinking down behind the snowy range, and hastened to our camp at the mouth of the canon, where I found my brother all safe. 'Charley,' said he, 'have you had your head in a flour sack?' It was then discovered that my hair was as white as you see it now."

It is proposed to have everything in shape so that when the latter work commences, it can be pushed forward the more rapidly.

MOW REDMOND WON THE FAIR

ago, to a miserable, lying little pamphlet, of the dime novel variety, entitled "The Entwined Lives of Miss Gabrielle Austin and Redmond, the North Carolina Outlaw." Through the kindness of a friend a copy of it has just come to our hands. It is worse than our wildest fancy had ever painted it. It purports to have been written by "Bishop Edward Crittenden," of Charlotte, N. C. In a letter to the author, Redmond, who is the chief of the North Carolina moonshiners, states that he was born in Char lotte, and that his ancestors were "among the foremost" of those who framed the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. Redmond's betrothed, Miss Gabrielle Austin, was the daughter of a minister of Guilford C. H., and a "sappy" story of their love is told. Redmond had not only murdered "Judge Spates upon the bench of the circuit court," at Asheville, but had done where the control of the circuit court, and the circuit court circuit court," at Asheville, but had done many other very wonderful things, among the most daring of which his having, single-handed and alone, whipped forty men of the Charlotte Grays, whom Governor Vance had sent to capture him. He was sitting in a house in the mountains, playing with a baby, when the Grays surrounded it. He tossed the baby aside, dashed out, firing as he ran, shot three of them [names not given], "dashed down several who opposed him, and breaking through the line, ran like a deer for the woods, amid a perfect shower of bulwoods, amid a perfect shower of bul-lets," when the Grays picked up their dead and wounded and moved to Ashe-ville. All this is a very handsome compli-ment to the Grays, and we refer to the book for the purpose of urging them to carry along more men, and better, when they next start out to capture Redmond and for the purpose of saying that this book is the most mastodonic lie of the century, and in all respects the worst

I to fade which MINERAL RESOURCES OF NORTH

CAROLINA. We do not wish to complain of our legislatures or the authorities of our State, for perhaps after all the people themselves are to blame for the nondevelopment of the wonderful mines of wealth of our good old State Other States with far less resources have filled the world with information of their capacities and advantages, and have told wondrous tales of their mineral and agricultural wealth. As a result they have been enabled to take the lead in many enterprises which have given them prosperity, influence and power, while North Carolina, with natural advantages equal to all and superior to most of them, has been content with the skies above and the air around, while her mineral wealth and greatness are but slightly hid beneath her soil.

We suppose that it is news to many of our people that in North Caroling rich and beautiful varieties of the precious gems have been found, and certainly the outside world is ignorant of this fact. Yet diamonds, rubies, sapphires, garnets, amethysts and other rare gems have been found in a number of counties. We confess, ourselves, to a very limited knowledge of the mineral resources of our State, but hoping that some enterprise may be stirred up on this subject, we propose to mention some of the counties and some of the minerals and jewels that have been found in them:

In Ashe county have been found malachite and copper pyrites.

In Buncombe county-Corundum, margarite, corundophilite, garnet in fine specimens, chromic iron, pyrites, fluorspar rutile, iron ores and oxide of

In Burke county-gold, monazite, zircon, beryl, corundum and fine specimens of garnet, sphene, graphite (commonly called black dead) abundantly and iron ores.

In Cabarrus county-Gold, barytes or heavy spar, copper pyrites in good specimens, auriferous pyrites, quartz pseudomorph after barytes, tetradymite, limonite, pyrolusite, barnhardite, wolfram and scheelite in good specimens, tungstate of copper, wolframine in good specimen, diamond, chrysocolla, copper glance, molybdenite, copper pyrites and iron pyrites in good specimens, needle ore, argentiferous galena (a combination of lead and silver), valuable copper ores, tretrahedrite, magnetite, tale, blende, galena, scorodite and gray copper. In the minerals found in this county, untold millions of wealth are now idle.

In Caldwell county-Chromic iron. In Chatham county-Mineral coal in abundance and pyrites.

In Cherokee county-Iron ores, gold, galena, rutile and corundum.

In Davidson county-Native silver. cerusite, anglesite, scheelite, pyromorphite, galena in abundance, blende, malachite, black copper, waverlite in fine specimens, garnet, stilbite, gold, tetradymite, oxide of bismuth and tellurium, copper pyrites, limonite, spathic iron, epidote, electrum and gold in crystals.

In Gaston county-Iron ores, corun dum, margarite, lazulite, kyanite and garnet in good specimens, graphite and

The above data is taken from Pro fessor Dana's Manual of Mineralogy. Professor Dana ranks high among the best mineralogists of the world. However, there are in North Carolina several minerals and building stones which he has not mentioned especially. There is a large amount of mica in North Carolina. The graphic granite, a queer specimen, is found and that very valuable mineral asbestos is found in such quantities as to prove profitable. Some of the mines produce iron ore that yields as high as 80 per cent. of the metal. With a State of such resources we may expect the grandest results if the people will only be equal

The Philadelphia Record, speculating on what may possibly be the effect of the negro exodus upon the cotton interests of the country, says: "Should the next cotton crop of the United States fall twenty-five per cent, short In consequence of the exodus excitement it would entail a loss of a million and a quarter bales, which, at 11} cents per pound, would exceed the sum of $22,500,000.

"It is not probable there will be a loss How do the latter account for this?

so great, but those who are fanning the exodus excitement for partisan ends expect to make it greater. Little they care how much suffering they cause the poor negroes whom they are inducing to leave their fields of labor to go in search of the "promised land," and the more distress they bring upon the white planters the better pleased will they be; little they care if all the cotton mills in the country are "shut down" in consequence of the high price of cotton, and the two hundred thousand men, women and children employed in these mills and in the establishments which they feed are thrown out of employment for three months in the year; little they care if every man in the country is obliged to pay two dollars for shirts such as are now sold for one; little do they care if India, Egypt, Mexico and Brazil should be able to produce cotton cheaper than us, and the item of $200,-000,000, the value of the annual exportation of cotton from the United States, should dwindle to nothing."

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR MR. BLAINE.

There has evidently been more "bulldozing" in Louisiana, or else the following article, which we copy from the New Orleans Democrat, would not have appeared. The "overwhelming Republican votes" must have taken to the woods, frightened at the mere announcement of an election:

They are sick and tired of elections in Jefferson parish. The police jury of that parish selected last Tuesday as the day for the election of a member of the police jury from the second ward, to fill a vacancy. Due notice was given of the proposed election by publication in the Jefferson Gazette, and notices were also posted in a number of conspicuous places. The people of the ward did not pay a particle of attention to these. Not a single person presented himself at the polls, and, as a consequence, there was no election. What is to be done in a case like that? The Gazette lectures the Jeffersonians for their unpatriotic conduct and their neglect of the duties of good citizens. A police juror is a most important office, it declares, and it is the duty of all true and patriotic citizens to see that the very best men are elected to this office. There is only one course left, it thinks, to appoint another day for the election-and work up public sentiment so that somebody will go the polis.

This will afford Senator Blaine another chance to institute companions between special districts in the North and South, and to wonder what has become of the Republican vote of 1872-74.

SINCE the first of January the upward movement of the whole stock market in New York has averaged at least twenty per cent., according to the estimate of the Financial Chronicle of that city. The effect of this has been to place many of the bankrupt railroads of the country on their feet again, and, although much money has been lost in the process, the lesson taught will not be without a commensurate value. During all these years of duliness money has been simply stagnant. With the return of confidence, capital is coming from its hiding place, and every branch of business is feeling the impulse it imparts. This buoyancy in the stock market has a stimulating effect on branches of business not at all allied to it. The Chronicle believes the upward tendency of the last few months will continue indefinitely.

Judging from the fiery and exhilarating tone of the editorials in his last issue, it is fairly to be surmised that the Republican man "has found it."

POLITICAL NOTES.

Now that Mr. Hayes has referred the Fitz John Porter case to Congress, we may look for a revival of all the slan-ders heaped on his name since the malice of Pope and his gang first struck that gallant officer. Mr. Hayes ought to have had courage enough to approve the findings of the board. But as he has shirked that duty, Congress ought to see that speedy justice is done to the Robinson, at the EAGLE BREWERY, in this city, has been chemically examined by me, the samples tested having been colby me, the samples tested having been col-lected by myself, and found free from adul-terating substances. It may be used as a medicine, or beverage, in full assurance of its purity, WM. H. TAYLOR, M. D., State Chemist.

This Beer is put up in ¼ and ¼ bbls., and also bottled for FAMILY and BAR use. All orders must be accompanied with the cash, or good reference.

It is endorsed by the direct pe sonal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to sty that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent civil es who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness join d with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapentical agent—Edit rs Seligious Heraid, Va.

About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair triat. After its use I could est anything with lim unity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health a d physic I comfort I have had for the last sixtern years, I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

R v Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colle, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without bart. I have recommence it to other sufferers with happits traults. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For protration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

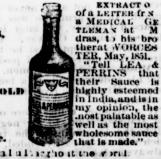

J D Eggleston, M D, Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far is I observed in my practice, for all the complaints I fan likes from indigestion, I use it and recommendit.

The Covington (Ga.) Star says that a Newton county lady has a counte-pane which was made many years before the old revolutionary war, and is consequently about one hundred and thirty years old. It is somewhat conser than those made now, owing of the fact that it was made by hand, with aid of crude machinery, but it looks to be as good as a new one, and will probably last as long, now.

They caught on Monday the king of turtles in the river below Philadelphia. The monster is eight feet long and five feet broad and weighs 800 pounds. Its head is twice the size of a man's and its dimens. dippers "two feet longer than a man's arm." Great stories are being told of its violent struggles when captured and its combut at death. Professor Cope, of the Academy of Natural Sciences, has obtained possession of its shell.

A contract has been made for the erection of iron works at Titusville, Pa. The fuel to be used is petroleum, and the production will be a very superior quantity of wrought iron. CATAWBA CO., N.C. This desirable watering place will be open for select visitors 20th May, 123. The Springs are situated near Hickory Station, on the Western North Carolina Railroad.

The bracing mountain atmosphere, with the health restoring properties of their waters, renders these Springs a most desirable resort for invalids and pleasure seekers.

The mineral waters embrace Blue and White Sulphur and Chalybeate. It is the best and most extensively fitted up watering place in the State, and can accommodate three hundred persons.

A good Band of Music will remain at the Springs during the season, and all the facilities afforded for amusements usually found at first-class watering places will be offered to visitors. A good supply of ice constantly on hand.

Conveyances, will meet the trains daily at Hickory Station, to convey visitors to the Springs.

BOARLES per day: $30 per mounts. Reat Hickory Station, to Constitute Springs.

BOARD—$2 per day; $30 per month. Reduced rates for families. Invalids can have the advantage of four different mineral waters, warm and cold baths, Turkish, hotalr, vapor and medicated baths if desired.

Enjoy Life. What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the cause of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache. Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three coses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents.

Hotel keeping as an art has been reduced to its perfection in the leading New York houses, among these the "St. Nicholas" hotel enjoys an enviable reputation. BOVINE, MISSISSIPPI, April 22, 1879. The following correspondence will LYNCHBURG, VA .- Dear Sir: Observing a certificate from you in reference to the "Iron and Alum Mass," of the Seven Springs, in Washington county, Va., in relation to its efficacy for Liver Diseases, would you have the kindness to inform me whether you used the "Mass" or the "Water;" also, a description of the symptoms and such other information as you may deem pertinent. I am a long-time sufferer with Liver Complaint, and naturally feel very anxious on the subject of a remedy that will afford me even tem-porary relief. Your early reply will greatly oblige, very respectfully, WILLIAM BARR.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 12, 1879.-WM. BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me, The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest. heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended. Hoping these answers recommended. Hoping these answers satisfactory, I am, very truly, A. WAD-DILL, Proprietor Lynchburg News. For sale by Wm. Simpson, Pescud, Lee & Co., and F. H. Heartt, Raleigh, N. C., and Druggists generally.
